

hearing the two voices that are so very importantly added by this amendment: the steel industry, without which the country cannot defend itself and cannot continue as an industrial power; and the collectively bargained, duly elected voice of organized labor through labor unions.

Now, I know that sometimes the steel industry disagrees with the administration and, often, organized labor disagrees with the administration. But in our country, we do not just listen to people with whom we agree; we welcome all points of view, all interests so that we can come up with the best policy solution for the country.

The Kucinich amendment adds two very important voices: the steel industry and organized labor. Even if one does not agree with their positions on these issues, their positions ought to be heard as we approach the manufacturing atrophy of the United States of America.

So I would urge everyone who wants all voices to be heard to vote for this amendment which is so very much in the tradition of good government in this country. I urge a "yes" vote.

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. WOLF. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. KUCINICH).

The question was taken; and the Chairman announced that the noes appeared to have it.

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. KUCINICH) will be postponed.

Mr. WOLF. Mr. Chairman, I move that the Committee do now rise.

The motion was agreed to.

Accordingly, the Committee rose; and the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. ISAKSON) having assumed the chair, Mr. HASTINGS of Washington, Chairman of the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union, reported that that Committee, having had under consideration the bill (H.R. 4754) making appropriations for the Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2005, and for other purposes, had come to no resolution thereon.
